Do you know who currently has keys to access secured areas? Do you know which keys are now overdue? Do you know who last checked out a liquor cabinet key? If you are having trouble tracking the whereabouts and assignments of keys checked out to employees or contractors, you need a user-friendly system that automates this for you. What you need is ScanKey!

ScanKey is a powerful, yet simple system that can be used by any industry with key tracking needs. ScanKey allows keys to be assigned to specific individuals or entire departments. Checking out a key takes only seconds, as it is simply a matter of scanning an employee bar code and a key tag. No keystrokes and no data entry errors. Keys are not mistakenly given to unauthorized employees. Plus, when keys are not returned within a given time period, reports will clearly show who has them and when they were checked out.

ScanKey utilizes a laser bar code scanner to quickly scan employee badges and key tags. Built in reporting capabilities allow you to generate meaningful reports in order to effectively analyze key data. With ScanKey, vital key or employee historical information is just a mouse click away.
